Report 1: Overview

With a mission to become an internationally-recognized liberal arts university with Hong Kong characteristics, Lingnan has charted a course of developments, improvements and changes in many areas to achieve its goals. Against a background of funding cuts and reductions in student numbers, we have managed to develop and improve in many aspects in the past few years. The results of the Research Assessment Exercises (RAEs), which are conducted periodically by the Research Grants Council, illustrate the remarkable journey that the University has made in this area of its work. The institution-wide research performance index rose significantly from 12.32% in 1994 to 22.80% in 1996 and 38.85 % in 1999, even though the UGC had adopted a higher threshold standard in the 1999 RAE than those for 1994 and 1996. According to a recent Internal RAE conducted by the University using the same or similar threshold standards of UGC 1999 RAE, the Research Index as a whole was 67.90%, which had already surpassed the target rate of 60% as set out in the University's Strategic Plan for 2003-2010. Of our staff, 42.86% had an overall score of "1" (meaning fully "research active") as compared to only 25.64% in the 1999 UGC RAE.

● Institutional Policy on Research

We are committed to excellence in teaching and believe that quality research is as important as, if not more so than, teaching, at a liberal arts university. The need to find an appropriate balance between research and teaching was also emphasized by the last TLQPR Panel. Research activities at Lingnan to a large extent support and enrich teaching. The synergy between teaching and research helps to link research strengths to excellence in undergraduate and postgraduate education. The University's research activities permeate its teaching programmes, and enrich the learning experiences for undergraduate as well as postgraduate students. We encourage academic colleagues to engage in collaborative research projects under the aegis of our research centres and institutes, and to develop research clusters. We hope we may thus improve collegiality and respond to the scholarly aspirations of our staff members.

The University's research policy is designed to optimize the use of research funds through quality enhancement, focused development and collaborative endeavour. Quality enhancement is achieved through faculty appointment and continuing improvement of its existing staff profile. Focused development is achieved as a result of identification of areas of excellence and the recruitment of faculty to build up strengths in these areas. Collaborative endeavour is fostered by establishing research centres that provide both research support and coordination.

To ensure that faculty members will be given adequate opportunities to engage in research and development activities as well as a concentrated period for writing, the University has expanded the current study leave scheme by awarding a maximum time-off period from 6-month (on full pay) to 12 months (staff to receive 9/12 of his/her normal salary) since the academic year 2001-2002. This will allow academic staff, through re-arrangements of teaching schedule and utilization of summer vacation, to be released from teaching and administrative duties to concentrate on research/study/writing full time. Altogether, ten academic members from six departments, each for six months, were released in 2002-2003.

- Organization of Research Funding and Usage of Direct Allocation Grants

The Research and Postgraduate Studies Committee (RPSC) is charged with the formulation of policies for the promotion, conduct, supervision and funding of research in the University. It decides on all internal funding allocations and monitors progress of research projects on various grants. Research Panels at the Programme level undertake initial assessment of applications for research grants and make funding recommendations to the RPSC. The Office of Research and Staff Development (ORSD) provides administrative assistance to the Committee in the management of allocated grants to ensure that all funding and budgetary procedures are properly followed.

The University aims to support as many worthwhile research projects as possible where reasonable research thresholds are attained. Internal research grants are allocated on the basis of competitive bids. Each application is evaluated on the basis of its academic merit, feasibility within the indicated time frame, budgetary appropriateness, and the track record of the investigator(s).

In 2002-2003, a sum of HK$2.5 million was available for allocation by the RPSC. The Committee was able to support 49 research projects involving about 30% of the academic staff. As in the past, the RPSC allocated 35% of its research budget directly to Academic Programmes as a start-up grant to support projects costing up to HK$30,000 each without referral to the Committee for approval. The titles and grants for those projects funded from the University's Block Grant and the RGC's Direct Allocation Grant are set out in Reports 2A and 2B respectively. Projects supported from private sources are listed in Report 2C.

During the year under review, the financial resources which the University has been able to commit to staff development was HK$1.17 million. For members of the academic staff, these grants were primarily for attending overseas conferences. A total of 92 academic papers were presented, through which staff have been, and will continue to be able to, share the results of their research with local or overseas specialists, and to receive the feedback they require before making the research more generally available in a published form.

- Inter-Institutional Collaboration

While at present inter-institutional collaboration exists mainly at the individual level, a system has been set up by Programme-based Research Institutes/Centres to channel resources into special areas of research and to develop important links with local, regional and overseas institutions for academic exchanges, conference and other collaborative activities. Research clusters have been set up under each Institute/Centre to encourage participation by as many faculty members as possible. The International Joint-Research Programme has been running successfully, through which distinguished scholars from outside Hong Kong are invited to team up with research fellows at various centres/institutes to work on topics of mutual interest. Subsistence allowances are provided for these partners to make a short trip to Hong Kong to enhance collaboration. Scholars currently engaged in the joint programme include Professor Oded Stark from the University of Oslo, Professor David Round from the University of South Australia and Dr John Barkdull from Texas Tech University.

Each year the University sets aside a sum of about HK$180,000 to finance two-way academic-exchange activities between institutions of higher learning on the Chinese mainland and Lingnan. In 2002-2003, a total of fifteen incoming and one outgoing visits were supported by this Academic Exchanges with China Scheme. Visiting institutions include Peking University, Tsinghua University, Fudan University, Capital Normal University, Northeastern University, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, among others.

● Postgraduate Research Work

In the area of postgraduate research work, Lingnan is able to develop a good pool of research students who have contributed significantly to the research culture of the University through their own research activities, participation in departmental interdisciplinary seminars and teaching in our undergraduate programmes. Since the University began admitting research postgraduate students in 1995, the demand for places has continued to outstrip places available. The number of applications for admission in 2002-2003 reached a record high of 123, which almost doubled the figure of 63 in the previous year. The take-up rate of more than 80% in all years and over 95% in the last two years is very encouraging. To a large extent, this is due to students' desire to study with scholars who are recognized experts in their fields. Moreover, greater effort has been devoted to building up the image of the University and more publicity channels have been explored to promote our research postgraduate programmes in recent years. However, Lingnan can only admit a small batch of highly qualified applicants to its MPhil/PhD programmes each year, and many qualified candidates have to be turned away owing to the small quota allocated by the UGC.

Our full-time MPhil/PhD students achieve a fairly high completion rate. The completion rates for the first three cohorts of full-time students (admitted in 1995 to 1997) were respectively 75%, 66.7% and 87.5%. The completion rate for the 1998 cohort was 100%. Over the seven years since 1995, only seven full-time students have withdrawn from their studies. The attrition rates of our part-time students, however, remain relatively high. Experience at other institutions also indicates a lower completion rate for part-time students, which may be due to their full-time job and other commitments.

Our students' theses are generally of very high quality and have received very favourable comments from both internal and external examiners. The high completion rates and high quality of the theses are obviously the result of our emphasis on close staff-student relationships. Apart from completing their theses, our students have been active in their research areas by attending relevant seminars and conferences. Some of them have presented papers at international conferences, a list of which can be found in Report 3. It can be seen that many of our students' theses and research take a broadly-based, multidisciplinary or cross-cultural approach, which is in line with our distinctive liberal arts education philosophy.

To enrich the University's academic programmes at the postgraduate level, two self-financed taught programmes have been offered since 2001: Executive Master of Business Administration and Master of Arts in English Studies. In addition, two other programmes, Master of Cultural Studies and Master of Science in International Banking and Finance, were validated during the year under review for launching in 2003-2004.

- Challenges Ahead

Our mission is to be the best provider of undergraduate education and an internationally-recognized liberal arts university with Hong Kong characteristics, distinguished by outstanding teaching, guiding students to the frontiers of knowledge and the highest standards of scholarship. In a context of unprecedented competitiveness, uncertainty and change, Lingnan seeks to identify and develop new and appropriate strategic priorities in teaching and research, in the development, management and diversification of our resource base and in the use of new technologies to provide world-class infrastructure for our teaching, research, management and support services.

We believe that an adequately funded research base is essential to our institutional balance and well-being, and is supportive of our teaching endeavours and liberal arts curriculum. As external funding for the kind of non-laboratory based research in the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences and Business, in which we are active, are extremely limited in terms of number and total funds available, we need the UGC/RGC to increase research support in these areas to enable us to build up our research infrastructure. Some overseas funding bodies, including those in England and Australia, are reviewing their research funding and support to the Arts and Humanities. We therefore hope the UGC/RGC would also give favourable consideration to moving in this direction.

Notes

1. Publications are listed by cost centres. For each publication, the name(s) of the author(s) belonging to the corresponding cost centre (during the reporting period) is/are underlined. In the case of students, a "#" is placed against their names.
2. The fraction appearing in the "Weighting" column of those co-authored items denotes the weighting of the authors concerned, calculated on a pro-rata basis. For example, a paper with four authors will count as 0.25 for each author, and if three of the four authors are staff members in the same cost centre, the paper will count as $3 \times 0.25 = 0.75$ in the cost-centre total.
