Report 1: Overview

■ Institutional Policy on Research

Lingnan University aspires to be an internationally-recognized liberal arts university characterized by excellence in teaching, competence in research and a commitment to scholarship. Striking an appropriate balance between teaching and research is central to the University's approach to liberal arts education. While teaching is the primary mission of the University, research is seen as a vital element of scholarly activity which supports and enriches teaching.

Lingnan is fully aware of the need to focus its research efforts on areas where it has strengths because of its small size. At Lingnan, research and teaching are seen as interactive, one enriching the other field of endeavour. The synergy between teaching and research is particularly relevant to Lingnan, as our teaching exhibits a strong empirical orientation.

The University's research policy is designed to optimize the use of research funds through quality enhancement, focused development and collaborative endeavour. Quality enhancement is achieved through faculty appointment and continuing improvement of its existing staff profile. Focused development is achieved as a result of identification of areas of excellence and the recruitment of faculty to build up strength in these areas. Collaborative endeavour is fostered by establishing research centres that provide both research support and coordination.

■ Organization of Research Funding

At Lingnan, we adopt a very careful and rigorous internal peer review process of applications for internal research grants. Each application is evaluated on the basis of its academic merit, feasibility within the indicated time frame, budgetary appropriateness, and the track record of the investigator(s). Below is a brief account of the fund allocation process:

- 1) The Research and Postgraduate Studies Committee (RPSC), a committee under the Senate, is responsible for the award of all of the University's internal research grants on the basis of policy guidelines approved by the Senate. There are two types of internal provision for the support of research: (i) Direct Grant for Research, up to $120,000 and (ii) Academic Programme Research Grant, up to $30,000.
- 2) About 65% of the University research budget is reserved for central bidding (to support projects costing more than $30,000 and up to $120,000 each). RPSC invites applications twice a year. Research and Postgraduate Studies Panels (RPSPs) at the three Academic Programmes levels (i.e. Arts, Social Sciences and Business Studies) undertake the initial assessment of applications. The RPSPs directly convey their comments and suggestions to the PIs concerned for possible adjustment or improvement of the proposals before submission to the RPSC for final consideration. The Panels, in addition to commenting on the proposals, are also responsible for the rating of the revised proposals by classifying them into 5 categories (Excellent, Very Good, Good, Fair and Poor). The RPSC makes the final decision on individual applications in light of the comments and ratings made by the RPSPs. [Note: Given the keen competition, shortlisted projects were funded at minimal cost. The average award was $86,000 in the past three academic years.]

- 3) Each year the RPSC allocates a portion of the University research budget (normally about 35%) directly to Academic Programmes to support small projects costing up to $30,000 each. Bids are dealt with on a regular basis (three to four times a year) by the RPSP concerned. The refereeing panel in each Programme is comprised of senior academics from various departments in the Programme.

■ Usage of Direct Allocation Grant

The RPSC allocated a total of HK$2.273 million to support 50 research projects by our academic staff during the 2006/07 academic year; and a further HK$1.0 million was committed to conferences and other staff-development activities. Meanwhile, our staff presented 87 academic papers at various international conferences. The titles and grants for those projects funded from the University's Block Grant and the RGC's Direct Allocation Grant are set out in Reports 2A and 2B respectively. Projects supported from private sources are listed in Report 2C.

The Direct Allocation (DA) is an excellent scheme for small-scale research projects and for many such projects undertaken at a humanities/social science and business university such as ours. Indeed, our institutional support for research relies heavily on RGC's DA. We make allocations with due care. PIs have to be highly competitive to win an award. Our efficient use of the DA is clearly evident in the number of quality outputs our colleagues manage to produce. This is confirmed in the 2006 RAE results summarized in the "Research Achievements" section below.

■ Collaborative Endeavour

While at present inter-institutional collaboration exists mainly at the individual level, a system has been set up by Programme-based Research Institutes/Centres to channel resources into special areas of research and to develop important links with local, regional and overseas institutions for academic exchanges, conferences and other collaborative activities. Research clusters have been set up within each Institute/Centre to encourage participation by as many faculty members as possible. The International Joint-Research Programme has been running successfully, through which distinguished scholars from outside Hong Kong are invited to team up with research fellows at various institutes/centres to work on topics of mutual interest. Subsistence allowances had been provided for these partners to make a short trip to Hong Kong to enhance collaboration.

In addition, the University has set aside some money every year to finance two-way academic-exchange activities between Lingnan and institutions of higher learning on the Mainland and in the less developed economies of Asia. In 2006-07, a total of 9 incoming and 4 outgoing visits were supported by this scheme. Visiting institutions included Peking University, Shandong University, Xiamen University, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, Development Research Centre of the State Council, Shanghai Institute for International Studies, Institute of Population Research of Renmin University, Libraries at Vietnam, among others.

■ Research Achievements

UGC's 2006 Research Assessment Exercise Results Confirm Lingnan's Excellence in Research

As a liberal arts university, Lingnan is fully committed to quality teaching as well as excellence in research. Where some liberal arts colleges in the US focus only on teaching, we pride ourselves as a “liberal arts-plus” university where we excel in both research and teaching. This is confirmed in the 2006 RAE results released by the UGC in March 2007. The University is very pleased to learn that its research strengths stretch across all its three academic areas, i.e. arts, social sciences and business studies.

Lingnan's 2006 RAE results show the following achievements:

- 1) Its institution-wide research performance index doubled to 76.35% from 38.85% in the last RAE in 1999. Lingnan is happy to note that its overall research index of 76.35% places itself as one of the best performing UGC-funded institutions in terms of the 2006 RAE results. Indeed, Lingnan ranked fourth after the three “research intensive” universities.
- 2) Lingnan performed well in all the three RAE panels (namely Business Studies & Economics Panel, Social Sciences Panel and Humanities Panel) under which its thirteen academic departments are grouped. The research indexes of all its three panels surpassed the sector-wide average. In fact, its Business Studies and Economics Panel ranked second with an index of 84.14% (see Table 1).
- 3) In terms of the nine cost centres which Lingnan were assessed, the research indexes of seven cost centres, namely (1) Accountancy, (2) Business Studies, (3) Economics, (4) Other Social Sciences (Politics & Sociology), (5) Chinese, (6) English, and (7) Translation surpassed the sector-wide average. As shown in the attached Table 2, the research indexes of Lingnan's cost centres compare very favourably with those of the other universities in Hong Kong. It is believed that at least one of Lingnan's fields ranks first among the eight UGC-funded institutions.

The results of Lingnan's 2006 RAE demonstrate the remarkable achievement of the University in this area. Even though the UGC adopted a higher threshold standard this time than in the 1999 RAE, the institution-wide RAE index of Lingnan has surged from 38.85% in 1999 to 76.35% in the 2006 exercise. In spite of this excellent performance in research, Lingnan is not complacent. The faculty members are striving for even better achievements in research and teaching in the future.

Lingnan Ranks High Internationally on the Publication of Business and Management

According to a recent review by three researchers D. QUER, E. CLAVER and L. RIENDA on the publication of business and management empirical research on China in leading international journals, Lingnan ranks high internationally. The review article, entitled “Business and Management in China: A Review of Empirical Research in Leading International Journals”, was published in the latest issue of Asia Pacific Journal of Management (2007, 24: 359-368).

The review identified 12 leading and high-impact international journals which included:

- 1) five journals dedicated to international business (IB) and management, i.e. Journal of International Business Studies (JIBS), Journal of World Business (JWB), Management International Review (MIR), International Business Review (IBR), and Journal of International Management (JIM);
- 2) six generic journals about business and management, i.e. Academy of Management Journal (AMJ), Administrative Science Quarterly (ASQ), Journal of Management (JM), Journal of Management Studies (JMS), Organization Science (OS), and Strategic Management Journal (SMJ); and
- 3) the longest history and prestigious Asia-based management journal Asian Pacific Journal of Management (APJM).

After reviewing the objectives and methodologies of 2,847 papers published in the above 12 journals between 2000 and 2005, 180 papers were found to be fulfilling the criteria established by the aforesaid three international researchers. The findings showed that researchers from Lingnan fared very well as compared to other leading universities world-wide despite its small size.

Lingnan was ranked fifth internationally with a total appearances of 13 papers (Adjusted appearances: 5.81 appearances, which take into account of joint authorships. For example, for a paper with two authors, it is calculated as ½ paper.) Three Hong Kong institutions including Lingnan emerged as the top five institutions being ranked. Only two UGC-funded institutions were ranked higher than Lingnan University in Hong Kong. If size of institutions is taken into consideration, Lingnan would have performed even better.

■ Concluding Remarks

We believe that an adequately funded research base is essential to our institutional well-being, in particular our liberal arts curriculum. As external funding for “non-laboratory” research in the areas of Humanities, Social Sciences and Business (in which we are active) is extremely limited in terms of the schemes and total funds available, we need the UGC/RGC to increase research support in these areas to enable us to build up our research strength and infrastructure. In this connection, we welcome the RGC’s initiative to establish a new Sub-Panel to address the special needs of Humanities projects that require support to free up PI’s staff time. We consider that it is an important step in the right direction.

Notes

1. Publications are listed by cost centres. For each publication, the name(s) of the author(s) belonging to the corresponding cost centre (during the reporting period) is/are underlined. In the case of students, a "#" is placed against their names.
2. The fraction appearing in the "Weighting" column of those co-authored items denotes the weighting of the authors concerned, calculated on a pro-rata basis. For example, a paper with four authors will count as 0.25 for each author, and if three of the four authors are staff members in the same cost centre, the paper will count as 3x0.25=0.75 in the cost-centre total.
