Report 1: Overview

■ Institutional Policy on Research

As a teaching and learning liberal arts institution, Lingnan is fully committed to quality teaching as well as excellence in research. While some liberal arts colleges in the US focus only on teaching, some of the strongest stress, as we do, the complementary nature of teaching and research, which supplement and inform each other and jointly enhance the intellectual environment and analytical breadth that we provide to our students. To this effect, while pursuing a policy and practice of close staff-student relationship, the University has substantially enhanced its research strength in recent years. With an intimate campus setting that provides a favourable environment for intellectual pursuit, Lingnan will continue to strive for excellence in teaching and research, including the continuing development of its nine “focused areas”.

The University’s research policy is designed to optimize the use of research funds through focused development, quality enhancement and collaborative endeavour. Focused development is achieved through identifying priority areas of research and the recruitment of faculty to build up strength in these areas. Quality enhancement is achieved through faculty appointment and continuing improvement of existing staff profile. Collaborative endeavour is fostered through establishing research centres that provide research support and coordination.

■ Focused Development

Lingnan is aware of the need to develop priority areas of research. It is essential that we build on the strengths of the existing research areas, while at the same time exploring some emerging areas for development. Nine research areas have been identified for focused support, including seven established ones (Aesthetics & the Arts, Cultural Research & Development, Modern Literature in Chinese, Conflict Management in Chinese Societies, Taxation, Public Policy & Governance, and Social Gerontology) and two developing areas (Hong Kong Studies Through History and Financial Markets & Economic Performance). These research areas are in line with our liberal arts mission, and are selected based on existing staff strength, proven track record and their connection to undergraduate teaching. Lingnan is committed to maintaining a balance between providing an excellent undergraduate education based on up-to-date knowledge, and meeting the standards of faculty research output characteristic of the best liberal arts institutions.

■ Quality Enhancement

To ensure that faculty members are given adequate opportunities to engage in research and development activities as well as an uninterrupted period of writing, a study leave scheme that awards a maximum time-off period of 6-12 months has been put in place. This allows academic staff, through re-arrangement of teaching schedule and utilisation of the summer vacation, to be released from teaching and administrative duties to concentrate on research, study, and writing full time. Nine academic members from seven departments were released from teaching in 2009/10, each for one term. In addition, the University has put aside HK$2 to $3 million each year in 2010/11 and 2011/12 to support outstanding research plans via research leaves on a competitive basis. Visiting faculty can be hired to cover teaching for faculty who are awarded research leaves. The funding could potentially support an average of one research leave place for each department during 2010 to 2012. Five leave plans slated for 2010/11 were approved in 2009/10.

In support of research work undertaken by young faculty, an Initial Research Activities Fund for Newly Recruited Assistant Professors has been set up to provide ancillary funding for research-related activities without requiring the submission of a formal research proposal.

■ Collaborative Endeavour

While at present inter-institutional collaboration exists mainly at the individual level, a system has been set up by faculty-based research institutes/centres to channel resources into special areas of research and to develop links with local, regional and overseas institutions for the purpose of academic exchange, conferences and other collaborative activities. For instance, Hong Kong Institute of Business Studies organised the “2009 Academy of International Business (AIB) Southeast Asia Regional Conference” on “Revitalizing the Global Economy: Challenges and Strategies for Sustainable Growth” in December 2009. Over 120 participants from 19 countries and cities attended the conference in Hong Kong, with 103 papers presented in 27 sessions. The Hong Kong APEC Study Centre at Lingnan organised an international conference on “APEC at 20 and the rise of China” in February 2010, which brought together about forty prominent speakers from around the region and the Mainland to join with local scholars to explore the future of APEC, in particular monetary cooperation and integration, intra-regional trade and investment, and relations between APEC and the rest of the world. The Department of Cultural Studies and the Kwan Fong Cultural Research & Development Programme jointly organised the 8th International Association of Cultural Studies Crossroads in Cultural Studies Conference in June 2010. This is the largest academic conference of the discipline held every other year since 1996, and at Crossroads 2010 we succeeded in attracting over 750 participants from over 50 countries to come to Lingnan for the 5-day congress.

In the course of 2009/10 two visiting artists—Vincent Chui and Stella Tang—successfully completed residencies at Lingnan through the Visual Studies Artists in Residence programme. Support for the continued running of this programme was secured from the Lingnan Foundation for an initial two-year period. Several art exhibitions were organized by Stella Tang and by two members of the Visual Studies staff.

In addition, the University has set aside funds to finance academic-exchange activities between Lingnan and higher learning institutions in China and the less developed economies of Asia. In 2009/10, three incoming and four outgoing visits were supported.

■ Organization of Research Funding

The formulation of policies for the promotion, funding and administration of research at the University is entrusted to the Research and Postgraduate Studies Committee (RPSC), a Senate committee that decides internal funding allocations and monitors progress of research projects funded by various grants. Initial assessment of research grant applications is undertaken by three faculty-level research panels, which make recommendations to the RPSC. Smaller grants are decided by the faculty research panels. The Office of Research and Staff Development provides administrative assistance to the RPSC and the panels in the management of allocated grants, ensuring that all funding and budgetary procedures are properly followed.

A rigorous internal peer review process is adopted for all internal research grant applications. Each application is evaluated on the basis of academic merit, feasibility within the indicated time frame, budgetary appropriateness, and the track record of the investigator(s).

■ Usage of Direct Allocation Grant

The Research Grants Council (RGC) Direct Allocation (DA) is an excellent scheme for small-to-medium-scale research projects, especially those undertaken at a university like Lingnan with focus on the humanities, social sciences and business studies. Indeed, our institutional support for research relies heavily on RGC's DA. Our efficient use of it, awarded only to highly competitive projects, is clearly evident in the number of quality outputs by our colleagues, as confirmed in the 2006 RAE results.

In 2009/10, RPSC allocated a total of HK$2.67 million to support 52 research projects and HK$1.35 million to fund 90 academic paper presentations at international conferences and other scholarly activities, through which staff were able to share the results of their research with local or overseas specialists. In addition, the RPSC allocated HK$0.18 million to sponsor RPg students to participate at 25 international conferences. The titles and grants for those projects funded from the University's Block Grant and the RGC's Direct Allocation Grant are set out in Reports 2A and 2B respectively. Projects supported from private sources are listed in Report 2C.

■ Research Highlights

According to the 2009 survey conducted by Brigham Young University, our Accountancy Department ranked 23rd in taxation research among universities worldwide, and is the leader in tax research in Hong Kong. As reported in the January 2005 issue of Hong Kong Economic Journal Monthly, our Department of Economics came third in a survey of the academic performance of the economics departments of seven Hong Kong universities, in an evaluation based on publications in international economics journals and the number of competitive grants per full-time academic staff member. Also, Lingnan was ranked fifth internationally in the publication of business and management empirical research on China in leading international journals according to "Business and Management in China: A Review of Empirical Research in Leading International Journals" published in the Asia Pacific Journal of Management (2007, 24: 359-368). These survey results demonstrate convincingly that researchers from Lingnan fared very well as compared to other leading universities world-wide despite its small size (Lingnan would have performed even better if size were taken into consideration). It is no exaggeration to say that the research outputs and scholarly activities of our academic staff in the past few years have successfully put Lingnan University on the global academic map.

As a teaching and learning liberal arts institution, we are committed to the synergistic pursuit of academic excellence and knowledge advancement. Building on our research strengths and capitalising on our staff expertise, we continued to produce research of high international calibre in various disciplinary and interdisciplinary academic areas.

The theoretical and practical value of research conducted at Lingnan is well exemplified by our first Knowledge Transfer project entitled "Health and Ageing: From a Life Course Perspective", funded by the UGC with HK$3.5 million and led by Asia Pacific Institute of Ageing Studies and Office of Service-Learning. The design and implementation of this KT project focuses on the transfer of tacit knowledge applied within the field of social sciences and humanities, as opposed to technology knowledge, and emphasizes Capacity Enhancement (a key priority in the World Bank's development agenda and in the UN's Millennium Development Goals), including the desirable attributes of thematic knowledge (health and ageing in this case), attitude or mindset and behavioural change at both the individual and the community level. The KT activities kick off with knowledge transfer within the university from faculty to students, from senior to junior students, from non-local to local students via two main channels: (1) undergraduate courses embedded with service-learning plus knowledge transfer element, and (2) campus-wide activities. Our main aim is to construct a solid foundation for the understanding and application of fundamental principles and skills to the next level of transfer from the University to the community through various platforms (New Senior Secondary Curriculum; Elder Academy, Action Researches, etc) structured around three themes: 1) Body Positive (nurturing positive attitude toward one's own body and appearance, tapping the physical, psycho-cultural side of health); 2) Healthy Life! Healthy Mind! (fostering a healthy life and mind, tapping the participants' physical and psychological side of health); and 3) YO! (Young-Old) Drama (appreciating the wisdom and beauty of aged people through reinforce intergenerational solidarity).

■ Concluding Remarks

We have completed 15 great years as the only liberal arts university in Hong Kong. We have continued to play a distinctive and useful role among higher learning institutions in Hong Kong, and provide a healthy diversity in Hong Kong's higher education sector. In light of the nature of research in the humanities and social sciences (HSS, including business) disciplines, a basic institutional funding model as opposed to project-based research grants is essential to maintaining and building up research strength and capacity. Such basic research funding is necessary not just for Lingnan (with its discipline mix solely in the HSS) but also for other UGC-funded universities in view of the essence of scholarship and its synergistic effect on teaching. The current allocation mix between basic research funding (Research portion in the Block Grant) and competitive funding from UGC/RGC is acceptable as the former supports a baseline research infrastructure as well as funding for faculty positions/salaries. Any further transfer of the R-portion of Block Grant to the RGC, to be allocated via research grant awards and on-costs, will likely jeopardize research and faculty strength in the HSS areas, as the R-portion is the dominant source of funding for research as well as faculty positions/salaries for HSS disciplines.

It should be recognised that research in the HSS, particularly the humanities, does not necessarily require the support of research grants. Scholars often toil in isolation, consult archives by themselves, conduct research and write. Such research activities require concentrated time and effort (hence occasional research leaves are necessary) but not project-based research grants. The number or size of UGC/RGC grants obtained is therefore not a proper criterion for measuring research performance/output or determining funding for the HSS disciplines (quality and quantity of research publications are more suitable in this regard). In fact, using UGC/RGC grants as the key performance indicator to inform research funding (including research postgraduate places) across the board is questionable as the grant application and success rates vary considerably from the science and engineering panels to the HSS panel. The GRF success rates (in terms of number of funded projects) in HSS is much lower than those in Physical Sciences, Engineering and Biology & Medicine. In aggregate, the 10-year average in the science and engineering (S&E) group is 42%, against 29.5% in the HSS group. Using 2010/11 GRF allocation as an example, the sector-wide average number of grants obtained per 100 staff in S&E is 21.2, against 10.9 in HSS while the respective average grant money obtained per 100 staff is $17.95m and $4.76m. A detailed analysis of the wide disparity in number and size of GRF grants received between S&E and HSS has been presented in our letter of 11 August 2010 to UGC concerning the future allocation of research funding and RPg Places.

As mentioned in earlier section, Lingnan has outstanding staff members who are well-known scholars in their respective fields. With an establishment of 130+ academic staff members at Assistant Professor rank or above but only a small number (45) of funded research postgraduate student places, our staff expertise is seriously under-utilised. Consequently, many of our well-qualified staff members have been deprived of the opportunity to supervise research postgraduates. On the other hand, many students who wished to learn from these experienced scholars were turned away in the past. This means an under-utilisation of staff expertise, as well as disappointment to applicants who are attracted by the specialism of our reputable staff.

We truly believe that the University has good reasons for a significant increase in its research student number. Many of our staff members are active researchers who are eager to nurture students in their fields of expertise. With expansion in our research postgraduate student number to a level where a critical mass can be formed, the University will be able to make further contributions in both teaching and research.

Explanatory Notes for Report 3

Type of Output:

- A Academic research: refereed
- B Academic research: not refereed
- C Contract research
- D Other outputs

Research Output Category:

1 Scholarly books, monographs and chapters

- 11 Research book or monograph (author) – Authored work generally arising from academic research project(s) although contract research can produce such results if findings are in the public domain
- 12 Chapter in an edited book (author) – A paper, essay, or other material authored specifically for inclusion in an edited book; does not include an opening or summary chapter prepared by an editor for inclusion in a work counted in (14)
- 13 Textbook (author) – A full-length authored work used for instructional purposes; include revisions if they involve "substantial" (say 20%) new material
- 14 Edited book (editor) – an edited book of essays, research papers or the equivalent

2 Journal publications

- 21 Publication in refereed journal – A paper in a refereed journal devoted to reporting the results of basic or applied research
- 22 Publication in policy or professional journal – A paper in a refereed or unrefereed journal publishing policy or educational material for a professional audience

3 Conference papers

- 31 Invited conference paper – A paper invited for presentation at an academic or professional meeting and published (in full or in part) in conference proceedings
- 32 Refereed conference paper – A paper accepted for presentation at an academic or professional meeting on the basis of a formal peer review process external to the institution and published (in full or in part) in conference proceedings
- 33 Other conference paper – Any other paper presented at an academic or professional conference

4 Creative and literary works, consulting reports and case studies

- 41 Authored play, poem, novel, story – Fictional or similar works, published in a form appropriate to the type of work
- 42 Painting, sculpture, drawing, photograph – Creation of artefacts capable of being reviewed for merit, generally but not exclusively of an artistic nature [exclude those covered in (44) below]
- 43 Film, video – Creation of films, videos, multimedia, and similar productions for research, educational, cultural or entertainment purposes [exclude those covered in (44) below]
- 44 Performance and participation in exhibits – Drama, musical and similar performances; participation as an exhibitor of paintings, sculptures or other artefacts: the exhibit may be sponsored by the institution or externally; it should attract significant public or professional attention
- 45 Translation of other's work – Translation of an item of type (11) through (22) and (41) above, written by others: translation of one's own work is considered part of the authoring process and should not be included

- 46 Engineering, architectural, graphic designs – An engineering, architectural, graphic, landscape, or interior design (or the equivalent), whether prepared for a client or in the public domain
- 47 Computer software or system – Development of a shareable computer software program, computer language, expert system, computer-aided instruction package or the equivalent
- 48 Consulting or contract research report – Report on work performed under an institutional consulting or research contract: reports counted here generally will be prepared for the client, and they may be proprietary if institutional rules permit
- 49 Written teaching case study or extensive note – Material prepared for teaching purposes with applicability beyond one's own course needs; short notes and descriptions prepared for immediate class use should not be included

5 Patents, agreements, assignments and companies

- 51 Patents granted – patents (on work done at the reporting institution) granted by patent office(s) to the reporting institution within the specified reporting period; not patents filed, not patents held in previous years, and not patents obtained/held on work done elsewhere

Notes

1. Publications are listed by cost centres. For each publication, the name(s) of the author(s) belonging to the corresponding cost centre (during the reporting period) is/are underlined. In the case of students, a "#" is placed against their names.
2. The fraction appearing in the "Weighting" column of those co-authored items denotes the weighting of the authors concerned, calculated on a pro-rata basis. For example, a paper with four authors will count as 0.25 for each author, and if three of the four authors are staff members in the same cost centre, the paper will count as 3x0.25=0.75 in the cost-centre total.
