

Arthur Li graduated in 2010 from the International Studies Stream (IS).

Hi, I am Li Wing Kit Arthur. I was a graduate of the International Studies (IS) Stream, of the Social Sciences Faculty, in 2010. I am now furthering my Master's Degree studies at Peking University (PKU), expecting to graduate in July 2012. The degree I am pursuing at PKU is Master of International Studies, majoring in International Political Economy.

I have had the opportunity to study various IS courses in Lingnan. The courses that I took provided me with a good understanding of not just Asian and global politics, but also the inter-linkages between the political and economic aspects of global affairs. In class, we were regularly discussing and debating current issues. So doing helped me learnt a lot about current issues and inter-personal skills.

Apart from my studies, I also joined the Hong Kong Auxiliary Police as a Police Constable. Lingnan University's Department of Political Science and its professors fully supported me in contributing to the broader community. This is also a good experience that I believe would lead to much greater success for myself in the future.

It is with the support of the professors in this department that I proceeded to study further at Peking University. I would particularly like to thank Prof. Brian Bridges and Dr. C. P. Chung for their unreserved recommendation such that I can further my studies now.

I would like to encourage all Social Sciences Students to choose Political Science subjects for a bright future.
